THE MONTH IN 30 SECONDS

Your ads brought 8 leads this month, up from 4 last month and 4 to 5 in a usual month: 6 home-search sign-ups, 1 tap on your website's phone number and 1 call from your ad's call button. With spend steady at $999, each lead cost $125, against $253 last month and $215 in a usual month. Your Williamson County Home Search ads drew 464 clicks, up from 451, at $2.15 a click. The thing to watch: your ads showed on 15% of the searches they qualified for and missed 66% because they ranked too low. We recommend testing new ad wording within the current budget and screening out searches for other real estate firms and for rentals, which brought no leads.

WHAT WE CHANGED THIS MONTH Google keeps account change history for a limited time, so we can see September 9 to October 1 but not the start of the month, and in that stretch the account was edited 64 times. From next month, this spot will also show where each recommendation below stands: done, waiting on you, or dropped.

YOUR LEADS

Leads - 8 this month, up from 4 last month

A lead is an ad visitor who reached out or signed up: a home-search sign-up, a tap on your phone number, a call from your ad's call button, or a form such as a contact or showing request. You had 8, against 4 last month and 4 to 5 in a usual month, and all of them came from your Williamson County Home Search ads.

WHAT THEY DID	LEADS	FROM WHICH ADS	WHAT IT MEANS
Signed up on your home search	6	6 Williamson County Home Search (search ads)	A visitor created an account on the listings search on your website, usually to save homes or get new-listing alerts. An early buyer signal, not a request to talk.
Tapped to call you	1	1 Williamson County Home Search (search ads)	A tap on the phone number on the website, from a phone. It does not confirm that a call connected or how long it lasted.
Tapped to call you	1	1 Williamson County Home Search (search ads)	A call placed straight from the ad's call button.
All leads this month	8

- Home-search sign-ups: 6, against 3 last month and 3 to 4 in a usual month, the latest on September 30. A sign-up is an early buyer signal, such as saving a search or getting listing alerts, not a request to talk.
- Phone taps: 1, most recently on September 22. A tap on the phone number shows the intent to call, not whether a call connected.
- Calls from your ad's call button: 1, the same as last month, on September 8. These have had longer quiet stretches before, including 77 days, June 2 to August 17.
- In all, 1.7% of clicks became a lead, against 0.9% last month and 1.0% in a usual month.

What this means for you

Leads rose while clicks held steady, so more of your ad visitors took a step toward you. With counts this small a month can swing either way, so we read it as a good sign rather than a new normal.

COST PER LEAD

Each lead cost $125, down from $253

You spent $999, close to last month's $1,011 and a usual month's $1,006. With more leads for about the same spend, each lead cost $125, against $253 last month and $215 in a usual month.

- Clicks cost a little less: $2.15 each on average, against $2.24 last month and in a usual month.
- The campaign is set to spend up to $33 on an average day (current setting).
- Cost per lead swings a lot when lead counts are small, so we read it as context, not a score.

What this means for you

The same budget brought more leads this month. We are not recommending any budget change; our focus is on what the ads say and which searches they reach.

SEARCH WORDS

Search words - 51% of the clicks Google shows came from people shopping for a home

Google shows us the search words behind 58% of clicks (269 of 464); rare searches stay hidden, so these figures describe only the searches Google shows. Of those, 137 clicks (51%) came from people shopping for a home, with searches such as "homes for sale franklin tn" and "brentwood tn homes for sale", and they brought 3 leads for $257.

SEARCHES THAT WERE FOLLOWED BY A LEAD

mls franklin tn

houses coming soon for sale

luxury homes for sale in franklin tn

Google shows the search words for 58% of clicks (269 of 464); the groups above describe those clicks. Searches for the team by name: 0%. They come from people who already know you, so they are kept out of the groups above.

- Searches behind leads included "mls franklin tn", "houses coming soon for sale" and "luxury homes for sale in franklin tn".

- Searches for other real estate firms by name took 39 clicks (14%) and $58, with no leads.
- Searches looking for an agent took 37 clicks (14%) and $68, with no leads, and searches for rentals took 10 clicks and $27, also with no leads.
- Searches for your own name brought just 1 click, so this budget mostly reached people who were not already looking for you.

What this means for you

Most of your budget reached people looking for homes. Searches for other firms and for rentals cost money without bringing leads, and that is where we would start screening.

CLICK LOCATIONS

Where clicks came from - 216 from Davidson County and 185 from Williamson County

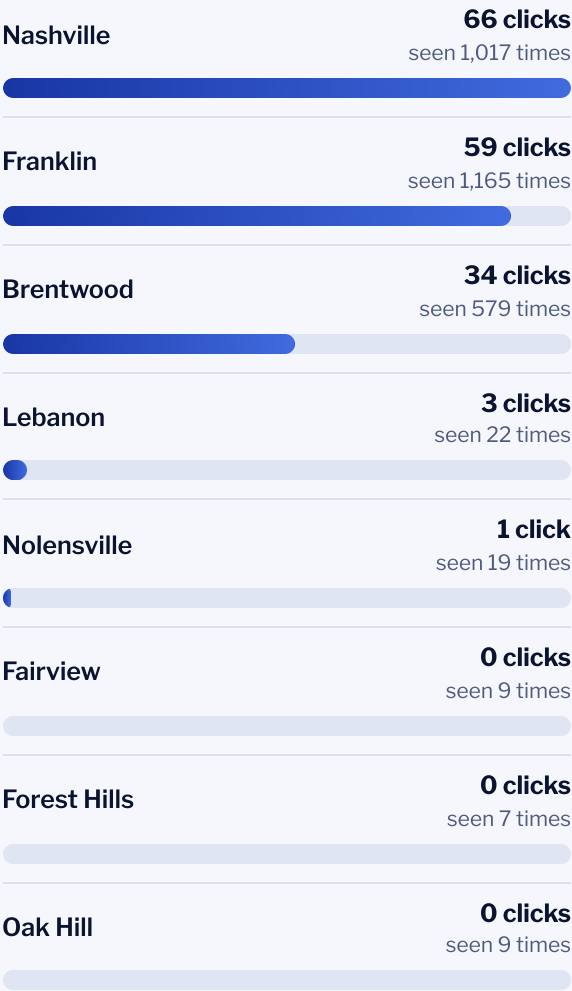

Google's location report puts most of your 464 clicks in Davidson County (216), Williamson County (185) and Wilson County (19). Searches naming Nashville brought 66 clicks, Franklin 59 and Brentwood 34.

Where people were when they clicked

Williamson County Home Search (Google search ads)

Towns people typed into Google before clicking

- Other towns came up rarely: searches naming Lebanon brought 3 clicks and Nolensville 1.
- The campaign is also set to show in places such as Los Angeles, Orange County, New York City, San Francisco County and Cook County, while the clicks the location report lists came mainly from the counties above.
- None of the 4 leads whose search words Google shows came from a search naming a place outside your market.

What this means for you

Your clicks come from the Nashville area your campaign is built around. The other areas in the settings may simply be unused, and we would like you to confirm which ones you want before we tidy them.

ROOM TO GROW

Room to grow - your ads showed on 15% of the searches they qualified for

Your ads showed on 15% of the searches they qualified for this month, against 14% last month and 16% across June to August. They missed 66% because they ranked too low and 18% because the day's budget ran out. Google sets ad rank from the bid and from how useful the ad and its page look.

- Missed for rank: 66%, against 68% last month and 66% across June to August.
- Missed for budget: 18%, the same as last month's 18%.
- Your ads appeared 8,362 times, up from 8,064 last month and 6,841 in a usual month.
- Of those appearances, 5.5% led to a click, against 5.6% last month and 6.6% in a usual month.

What this means for you

Rank, more than budget, is what keeps these ads off most searches. Sharper ad wording and pages that match each search are the next things to improve, though we cannot promise a ranking change.

WHAT WE RECOMMEND NEXT

Recommendations for the coming month

Test new ad wording for home searches

AD WORDING TEST

We recommend testing new ad wording built around what people searched for, such as homes for sale in Franklin and Brentwood, and checking that each ad opens a page that matches its search, all within the current budget. The aim is to win more of the searches the ads now miss because they rank too low. We will report the share of searches shown each month, though we cannot promise a ranking change.

Screen out searches for other firms and for rentals

SEARCH WORDS

We recommend screening out searches for other real estate firms by name and searches for rentals, a few at a time, and watching leads as we go. Of the searches Google shows, these brought clicks but no leads this month. Searches for homes in Nashville, Franklin and Brentwood stay in.

Trim the location settings to the areas you want

TARGETING

We recommend trimming the campaign's location settings to the areas you want, once you confirm them. It is set to show in places such as Los Angeles and New York City as well as Williamson, Davidson and Wilson counties, while clicks come mainly from the Nashville area. We will not change anything without your go-ahead.

Keep an eye on calls from the ad's call button

KEEP WATCHING

We recommend no change yet and keeping an eye on calls from your ad's call button, last recorded on September 8. They have had a longer quiet stretch before, from June 2 to August 17, so this is not unusual yet. If they stay quiet through the coming month, we will suggest a quick test call.

What we need from you this month

1. Which areas you want your ads to show in (the location recommendation). The settings include places such as Los Angeles and New York City, and we will not change them without your go-ahead.
2. A yes to screening out searches for other real estate firms and for rentals (the search-word recommendation).

PLAIN-ENGLISH GLOSSARY

Lead

An ad visitor who signed up on your home search, tapped your phone number on your website, called from the ad's call button, or sent a form such as a contact or showing request. A phone tap shows the tap, not whether a call followed.

Cost per lead

Your ad spend for the month divided by the leads that came in. It swings a lot when lead counts are small.

Share of searches shown

Out of all the searches your ads qualified for, the share where your ad actually appeared. The rest were missed because the ad ranked too low or the day's budget ran out.

Home-search sign-up

A visitor created an account on the listings search on your website, usually to save homes or get new-listing alerts. An early buyer signal, not a request to talk.

Click rate

The share of times your ad appeared on Google that ended in a click.

A usual month

The average of June to August 2026, the months before this one. It keeps an unusually busy or quiet month from setting the bar.
