THE MONTH IN 30 SECONDS

Your ads brought 18 leads this month, above a usual month's 16 to 17, from 345 search ad clicks, up from 341. Of those leads, 16 were property info requests, 1 was a home-search sign-up and 1 was a contact request. Leads were below last month's 22, so each lead cost $56, against $45 last month and $62 in a usual month, on spend of $1,003. None of the searches Google shows were for your team's name, so these clicks reached people shopping for rentals. Next, we recommend testing new ad wording, since your ads missed 67% of the searches they qualified for because they ranked too low, and a quick test sign-up on your home search.

WHAT WE CHANGED THIS MONTH Google keeps only a limited stretch of account change history, so it covers most of this month but not all of it. In that stretch your account was edited 13 times. We will share the list of those edits on request, and from next month this spot will also show where each recommendation below stands: done, waiting on you, or dropped.

LEADS

Leads - 18 this month, above a usual month's 16 to 17

A lead is an ad visitor who reached out or signed up on your website. This month brought 18: 16 property info requests, 1 home-search sign-up and 1 contact request. That is fewer than last month's 22 and more than the 16 to 17 of a usual month.

All leads this month	18

- Property info requests: 16, against 18 last month and 10 to 11 in a usual month. The latest came in on October 4, after the month closed.
- Phone taps: none this month, against 2 last month. A phone tap came in on October 3, after the month closed, and earlier this year phone taps went quiet for 47 days before picking up again.
- Home-search sign-ups: 1, the same as last month, and none since September 12, a quiet stretch of 24 days so far. An earlier quiet stretch, from July 18 to August 26, lasted 40 days.
- Contact requests: 1, the same as last month, with the latest on October 6.

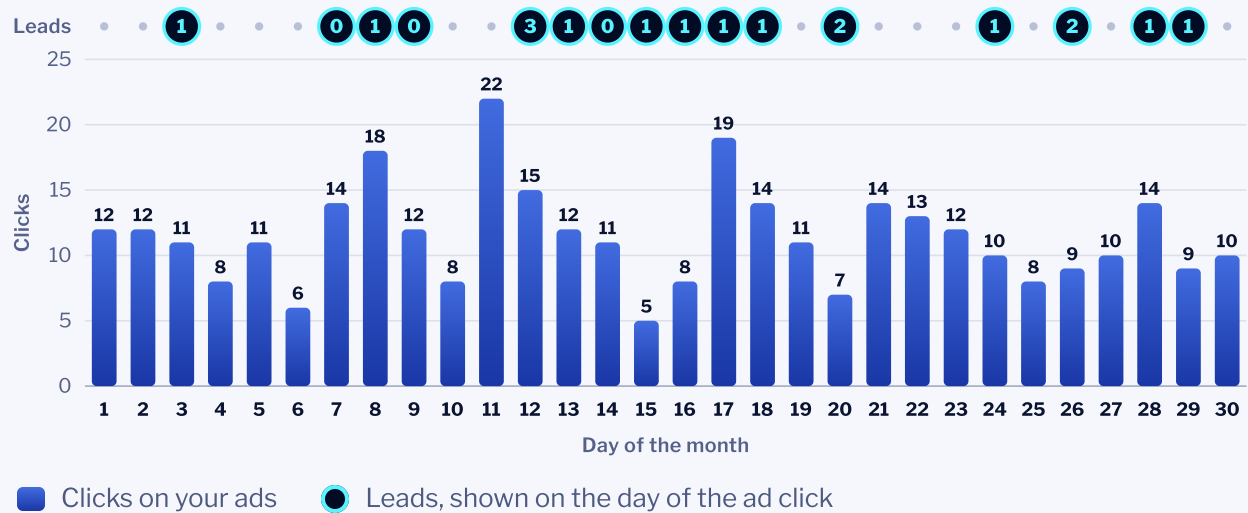

What this means for you

Leads stayed above a usual month even though they were fewer than last month, and property info requests kept coming after the month closed. Sign-ups have gone quiet before, and a quick test sign-up will show whether new ones are being recorded.

SEARCH ADS

Search ads - 345 clicks, up from 341, at $2.91 each

Search ads appear when someone types what they want into Google. Your Nashville Furnished Rental Search ads drew 345 clicks for $1,003, up from 341 last month and above the usual 340. Each click cost $2.91, against $2.95 last month and $2.96 in a usual month.

- Your ads appeared 2,645 times, fewer than last month's 3,414, but people clicked more often when they saw one: the click rate rose to 13.0% from 10.0%, against 11.1% in a usual month.
- Of all clicks, 5.1% became a lead, against 6.5% last month and 4.7% in a usual month.
- Spend was $1,003, close to last month's $1,005 and a usual month's $1,004.

What this means for you

Your ads showed less often but drew as many clicks, so people who saw them found them worth clicking. The share of clicks that became a lead sat between last month and a usual month.

WHAT PEOPLE SEARCHED

Searches - rentals drew 82% of the clicks Google shows

Google shows us the search words behind 42% of clicks (146 of 345), so these findings cover that share. None of those searches were for your team's name, so the clicks reached people shopping for a place to rent, not people already looking for you.

Your ads are reaching people in the areas the campaign is set to cover who are searching for a rental in Nashville or Franklin. We will keep watching which areas bring leads.

MISSED SEARCHES

Missed searches - your ads showed on 17% of the searches they qualified for

For every search your ads qualified for, Google reports whether they showed. This month they showed on 17%, the same as last month. They missed 67% because they ranked too low, against 71% last month, and 16% because the day's budget ran out, against 11% last month.

- Ad rank decides which ads show and in what order. Google sets it from the bid and from how useful the ad and its landing page look.
- The ranking gap is much larger than the budget gap, so it is where we see the most room within the current $33 a day.
- We are not recommending a bigger budget. The next thing to improve is the ads and the pages they open.

What this means for you

Sharper ad wording and a closer match between ad and page are the next things to work on. Google decides rankings, so we cannot promise a change, and we will report what moves.

WHAT WE RECOMMEND NEXT

Recommendations for the coming month

1

Test new ad wording to lift your ad rank

AD WORDING TEST

We recommend testing new ad wording built around the searches that were followed by leads this month, such as furnished apartments in Nashville and Franklin, within the current $33 a day. Your ads missed 67% of the searches they qualified for because they ranked too low, so this is the next thing to improve. We cannot promise a ranking change, and we will report what moves.

2

Run a quick test sign-up on your home search

QUICK CHECK

We recommend that our team make a test sign-up on your home search. Sign-ups have been quiet since September 12. Quiet stretches have happened before, and a test shows whether new ones are being recorded. Your team would see a test lead from us, named BLOK Test.

3

Screen out searches to buy

SEARCH WORDS

We recommend screening out searches to buy rather than rent, such as "nashville apartments for sale", which drew 4 clicks for $27 and no leads this month, a few at a time. We would start only after you confirm your team does not want buyer leads from these ads.

4

Keep watching cost per lead

KEEP WATCHING

We recommend no change here yet and keeping a close watch on cost per lead, $56 this month against $45 last month and $62 in a usual month, along with the share of clicks that became a lead, 5.1% this month.

What we need from you this month

1. A yes to the test sign-up on your home search.
2. A word on whether your team wants to hear from people searching to buy a home. Your answer tells us whether to screen out searches to buy.

PLAIN-ENGLISH GLOSSARY

Lead

An ad visitor who sent a property info request or contact request, signed up on your home search, or tapped your phone number on your website. A phone tap shows the tap, not whether a call followed.

Home-search sign-up

A visitor created an account on the home search on your website, usually to save homes or get listing alerts. An early signal, not a request to talk.

Ad rank

How Google decides which ads show and in what order, set from the bid and from how useful the ad and its landing page look.

Property info request

A request for details about a property, recorded when a visitor sends that form on your website.

Click rate

The share of times an ad was shown that someone clicked it.

A usual month

The average month from June to August, the months before this one. It keeps an unusually busy or quiet month from setting the bar.
