THE MONTH IN 30 SECONDS

Your Nashville furnished-rental search ads brought 17.75 leads in September, above the 16 to 17 of a usual month, and each lead cost $56, against $62 in a usual month. The ads drew 345 clicks, up from 341, at $2.91 a click, and people clicked 13.0% of the times the ad showed, up from 10.0%. Leads were lower than last month's 22.25, and the dip was in property info requests, 15.75 against 18.25, and in phone taps, none against 2. You spent $1,003, about the same as a usual month's $1,004. Next, we recommend testing new ad wording to win more of the searches your ad ranks too low for, and a quick test sign-up on your home search.

WHAT WE CHANGED THIS MONTH Google's change history for your account covers September 9 to October 1, not the whole month, and it shows 13 edits in that stretch. The numbers below show how the account ran with those settings. From the coming month, this spot will also show where each recommendation below stands: done, waiting on you, or dropped.

LEADS

Leads - 17.75 in September, above 16 to 17 in a usual month

A lead is an ad visitor who reached out or signed up on your website: a property info request, a contact request, a home-search sign-up or a tap on your phone number. Your search ads brought 17.75 leads for $1,003, or $56 each, against 22.25 last month and 16 to 17 in a usual month. In all, 5.1% of clicks became a lead, against 6.5% last month and 4.7% in a usual month.

All leads this month	18

- Property info requests: 15.75, against 18.25 last month and 10 to 11 in a usual month. The latest came in on October 4, after the month closed.
- Contact requests: 1, the same as last month, against 2 to 3 in a usual month. Another came in on October 6.
- Home-search sign-ups: 1, the same as last month, and none since September 12. Sign-ups also went quiet from July 18 to August 26 before picking up again.
- Phone taps: none counted as leads in September, against 2 last month. A tap came in on October 3, after the month closed.

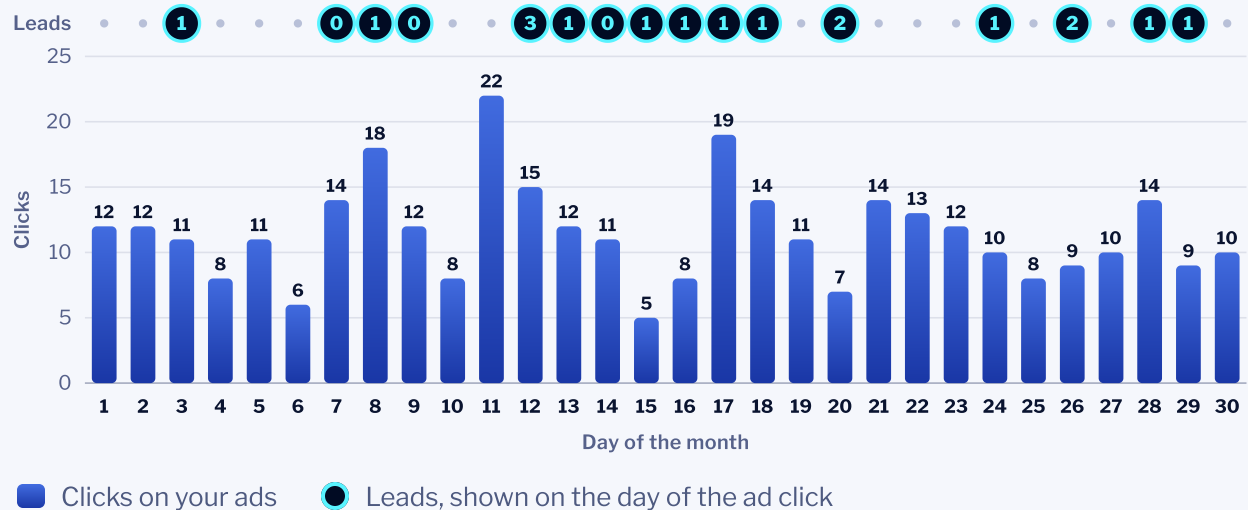

What this means for you

Leads ran above a usual month and cost less than usual, though below last month's level. A quick test sign-up will show whether the quiet home-search sign-ups are simply a slow stretch.

SEARCH ADS

Search ads - 345 clicks at $2.91 each, up from 341

Search ads appear when someone types what they want into Google. Your Nashville Furnished Rental Search ads drew 345 clicks for $1,003, up from 341 last month and about 340 in a usual month, and each click cost $2.91, against $2.95 last month.

- Your ad showed 2,645 times, fewer than the 3,414 times last month and 3,053 in a usual month.
- People clicked 13.0% of the times it showed, against 10.0% last month and 11.1% in a usual month, so fewer showings still brought slightly more clicks.
- Spend held steady at $1,003, against $1,005 last month and $1,004 in a usual month.

What this means for you

Your ad is clicked more often when it shows, which kept clicks steady even as it showed less often. Click costs also eased a little.

SEARCH WORDS

Search words - rentals drew 82% of the clicks Google shows

Google shows the search words behind 42% of clicks (146 of 345), so these findings describe those searches only. None of them were searches for your team's name, so these ads reached people looking for a place to rent, not people already looking for you.

Google shows the search words for 42% of clicks (146 of 345); the groups above describe those clicks. Searches for the team by name: none this month. Those come from people who already know you, so they are always kept apart from the groups above.

- Of the searches Google shows, rental searches drew 119 clicks for $308 and 6 leads, 82% of the visible clicks, for example "homes for rent franklin tn" and "short term rentals in nashville tn".

- Searches that turned into leads included "luxury apartments green hills nashville" (2), "furnished apartments in franklin tn", "fully furnished apartments nashville" and "furnished apartments for rent nashville".
- A small number of searches were for homes to buy, such as "nashville apartments for sale": 4 clicks for $27 and no leads.

What this means for you

People find your ads while searching for furnished and short-term rentals around Nashville and Franklin, which is what this campaign is built for.

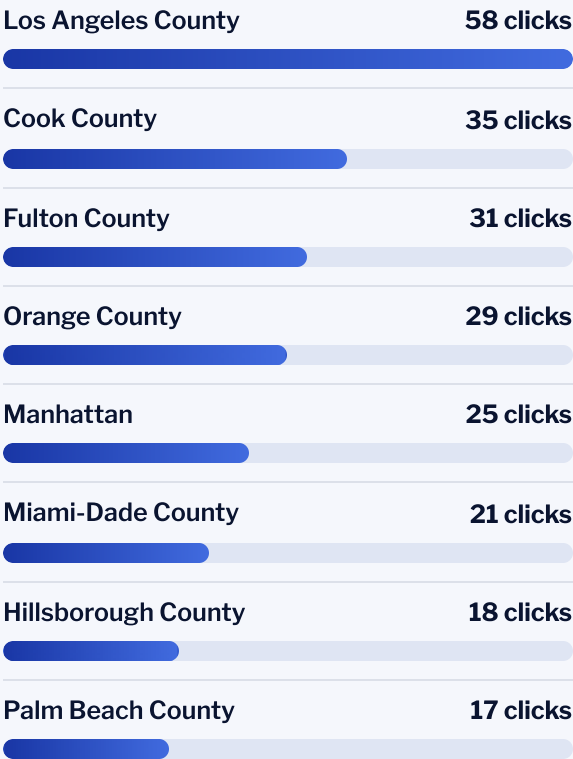

CLICK LOCATIONS

Where clicks came from - Los Angeles County led with 58 clicks

Your campaign is set to show to people in areas such as Los Angeles County, Cook County, Fulton County, New York City and the San Francisco Bay Area, so it reaches people looking for Nashville rentals from where they are now. Los Angeles County led with 58 clicks, then Cook County with 35 and Fulton County with 31.

Where people were when they clicked

Towns people typed into Google before clicking

- These locations show where people physically were when they clicked, from Google Ads' own location report.
- The searches themselves most often named Franklin, in 26 clicks.
- The campaign's settings cover areas in California, Florida, Georgia, Illinois and New York.

What this means for you

This campaign meets people in other cities as they look for a furnished place around Nashville. If any of these areas no longer fit your plans, tell us and we will review the list with you.

AD RANK

Room to grow - your ad showed on 17% of the searches it qualified for

Google counts every search your ad could have appeared on. Your ad showed on 17% of them, the same as last month. It missed 67% because its ad rank was too low, against 71% last month, and 16% because the day's budget ran out.

- Google sets ad rank from the bid and from how useful the ad and its page look, so the ad's wording and the page it opens are the next things to improve.
- We are not recommending a bigger budget. The aim is to win more of the searches the current $33 a day can already reach.

What this means for you

Ad rank is the main thing keeping your ad off more searches. Improving it is our next focus, though Google decides each search, so we cannot promise a change.

WHAT WE RECOMMEND NEXT

Recommendations for the coming month

1

Test new ad wording built on the searches that became leads

AD WORDING TEST

We recommend testing new ad wording that matches the furnished-apartment searches that turned into leads, such as "fully furnished apartments nashville", and checking that the page each ad opens matches its words. This works within the current budget, and we will compare clicks and leads against the current ads before keeping either.

2

Run a quick test sign-up on your home search

QUICK CHECK

We recommend that our team make a test sign-up on the home search on your website. Sign-ups have been quiet since September 12, and an earlier quiet stretch this summer ran longer, so this is a check, not a sign of a fault. Your team would see a test lead from us, named BLOK Test.

3

Screen out searches for homes to buy

SEARCH WORDS

We recommend screening out searches for homes for sale, such as "nashville apartments for sale", since this campaign is built for rentals. These were a small share of clicks, so this is a tidy-up rather than a big shift.

4

Keep an eye on cost per lead

KEEP WATCHING

We recommend keeping the current settings for leads and watching cost per lead in the coming month: it was $56 in September, against $45 last month and $62 in a usual month.

What we need from you this month

1. A yes to the test sign-up on your home search.
2. Any details you want the new ads to highlight, such as furnishings or length of stay.
3. A word on whether the areas your ads show in still match where you want to reach people.

PLAIN-ENGLISH GLOSSARY

Lead

An ad visitor who sent a property info request or contact request, signed up on your home search, or tapped your phone number on your website. A phone tap shows the tap, not whether a call followed. Counts can include parts of a lead, because Google sometimes shares credit for a lead across more than one ad click.

Click rate

The share of the times your ad showed on Google that someone clicked it.

A usual month

The average of June, July and August. It keeps one unusually busy or quiet month from setting the bar.

Home-search sign-up

A visitor created an account on the listings search on your website, usually to save a search or get listing alerts. An early signal, not a request to talk.

Cost per lead

Your ad spend divided by your leads.

Ad rank

Google's score for each ad in each search, set from the bid and from how useful the ad and its page look. Ads with too low a rank do not show.
