

— SEPTEMBER 2026

Search clicks rose to 108 from 24 and brought one home-search sign-up; the next thing to improve is how often your ads show.

THE MONTH IN 30 SECONDS

Your South Florida Home Search ads drew 108 clicks this month, up from 24 last month, and each click cost $4.69, down from $5.55. You spent $506, against $133 last month. The ads brought one lead, a home-search sign-up from someone who searched 'west palm beach homes', against none last month. None of the searches Google shows were for your name, so these clicks came from people shopping, not people already looking for you. The ads showed on 14% of the searches they qualified for and missed 62% because they ranked too low, so we recommend new ad wording and screening out searches for other firms by name.

WHAT WE CHANGED THIS MONTH Your account's change history shows 20 edits between September 9 and October 1. Google keeps only a limited stretch of history, so the first days of September are not covered. We do not read this month's numbers as the result of any one edit; they show how the account performed over the month as a whole.

SEARCH ADS

Search ads - 108 clicks, up from 24 last month

Search ads appear when someone types what they want into Google. Your South Florida Home Search ads drew 108 clicks for $506 this month, against 24 clicks for $133 in August.

- Your ads appeared 1,325 times on Google results pages, up from 241 last month.
- Click rate: 8.2% of the times your ad showed, someone clicked, against 10.0% last month.
- Cost per click: $4.69, down from $5.55 last month.

What this means for you

Many more people saw and clicked your ads this month, and each click cost less than in August.

SEARCH WORDS

Search words - 20 clicks from people shopping for a home, none for your name

Google shows us the search words behind 58% of clicks (63 of 108) and hides rare searches. None of the 334 search terms it shows were for your name, so these ads reached people shopping for homes, not people already looking for you.

SEARCHES THAT WERE FOLLOWED BY A LEAD

west palm beach homes

Google shows the search words for 58% of clicks (63 of 108); the groups above describe those clicks. Searches for the team by name: none this month. Those come from people who already know you, so they are always kept apart from the groups above.

- Shopping for a home: 20 clicks (32% of visible clicks) for $79, and the one lead. Examples: 'palm beach homes' and 'jupiter florida for sale'.
- General real estate, with no clear buy or sell: 13 clicks (21% of visible clicks) for $58.

- Searches for other real estate firms by name: 15 clicks (24% of visible clicks) for $60, with no leads.

What this means for you

Searches for homes brought the lead. Searches for other firms by name cost $60 with no leads, which is where we see the clearest room to tighten.

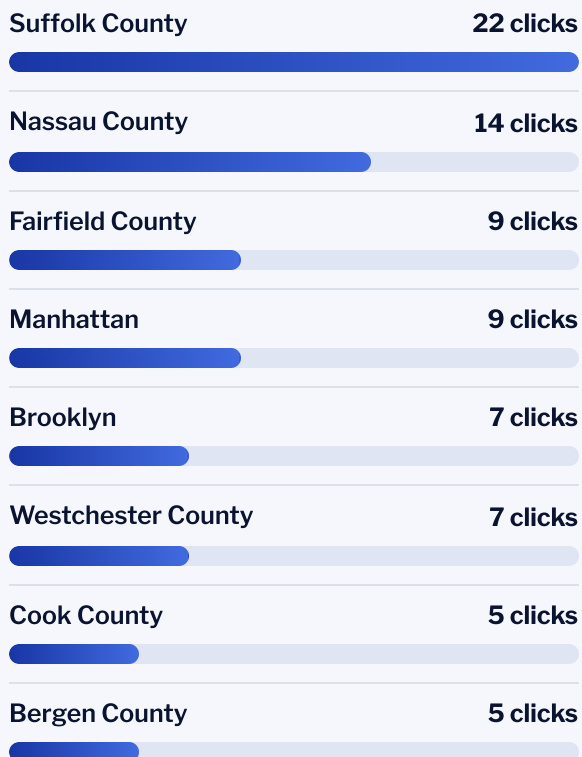

CLICK LOCATIONS

Where people clicked from - Suffolk County led with 22 clicks

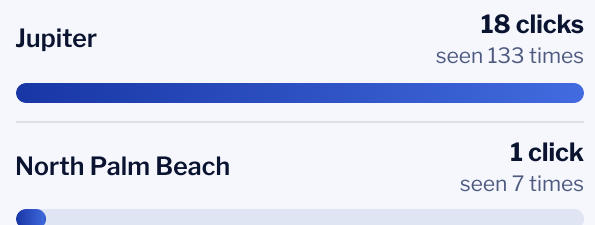

Your South Florida home-search ads are set to show to people in areas such as New York City, Suffolk County, Nassau County, Fairfield County, Marin County and San Francisco County. The clicks were led by people in Suffolk County (22), Nassau County (14) and Fairfield County (9), of 108 in all.

Towns people typed into Google before clicking

- Jupiter was the town people named most in their searches, in 18 clicks; North Palm Beach was named in 1.

- The location settings above are the current ones, as of October 7, and may differ from what was set during September.

What this means for you

Your ads are reaching people in the areas you chose who are searching for South Florida homes.

LEADS

Leads - one home-search sign-up, up from none in August

A lead is an ad visitor who reached out or signed up, counted from the lead actions your account tracks, such as a home-search sign-up, a showing request or a contact request. This month brought one: a home-search sign-up from someone who searched 'west palm beach homes'. August brought none.

WHAT THEY DID	LEADS	FROM WHICH ADS	WHAT IT MEANS
Signed up on your home search	1	1 South Florida Home Search (search ads)	A visitor created an account on the listings search on your website, usually to save homes or get new-listing alerts. An early buyer signal, not a request to talk.
All leads this month	1

- A home-search sign-up means a visitor created an account on the home search on your website, usually to save a search or get listing alerts. It is an early buyer signal, not a request to talk.
- 0.9% of clicks became a lead this month, against 0.0% in August.
- Your ads have brought two home-search sign-ups since June 1, the latest on October 6, after the month closed (not counted here).

What this means for you

Sign-ups are starting to come in. We will keep watching whether they keep pace with the extra clicks.

AD RANK

Your ads showed on 14% of the searches they qualified for

For every search your ads could have shown on, Google decides whether they appear. This month they showed on 14%, against 22% in August. Google sets ad rank from the bid and from how useful the ad and its page look.

- 62% were missed because the ads ranked too low, against 6% in August.
- 23% were missed because the day's budget ran out, against 73% in August. The daily budget is currently $16.

What this means for you

The bigger gap now is ad rank, not budget. Better ad wording is the next thing to improve, within the current budget, though we cannot promise how much it will change.

WHAT WE RECOMMEND NEXT

Recommendations for the coming month

Screen out searches for other firms by name

SEARCH WORDS

We recommend screening out searches for other real estate firms by name, which drew 15 clicks for $60 this month with no leads. We would add them a few at a time, keep searches for homes and towns, and start only with your go-ahead.

Test new ad wording

AD WORDING TEST

We recommend testing new ad wording built around the searches that brought clicks and the lead, such as homes for sale in West Palm Beach and Jupiter, within the current $16 a day. The aim is to help your ads rank well enough to show on more of the searches they qualify for; we cannot promise that it will.

Confirm what a home-search sign-up counts

QUICK CHECK

We recommend a quick check with your home search provider that the 'IDX Registration' action counts a visitor creating a home-search account, so we describe your leads correctly.

Keep watching ad rank

KEEP WATCHING

We recommend keeping a close eye on the share of searches missed because the ads ranked too low, 62% this month, and reporting it again in the coming month.

What we need from you this month

1. A go-ahead to screen out searches for other real estate firms by name.
2. A quick word from your home search provider on what the 'IDX Registration' action counts.

PLAIN-ENGLISH GLOSSARY

Lead

An ad visitor who reached out or signed up, such as a home-search sign-up, a showing request or a contact request. Taps on your Google listing are not counted as leads.

Click rate

The share of times your ad was shown that someone clicked it.

Searches where your ads showed

Of all the searches your ads qualified for, the share where they actually appeared. The rest were missed because the ads ranked too low or the day's budget ran out.

Home-search sign-up

A visitor created an account on the home search on your website, usually to save homes or get new-listing alerts. An early buyer signal, not a request to talk.

Cost per click

What each click on your ads cost on average.

Searches Google shows

Google hides rare searches, so the search words in this report describe only the clicks where Google shows them.
