THE MONTH IN 30 SECONDS

Your ads brought 126 leads this month, up from 98 last month and 88 in a usual month: 122 website sign-ups and 4 calls from your ads' call button. Each lead cost $14 on average from $1,737 in ad spend, against $15 last month and $19 in a usual month. Astoria Home Search brought 1,907 clicks and 115 leads, and your banners reached about 60,700 people (Google's estimate) for $242 while each view cost less. Queens Home Search slipped to 11 leads from 16, and its ads missed 66% of the searches they qualified for because they ranked too low. Next, we recommend testing new ad wording there, within the current budget, and going through the banner site list with you.

WHAT WE CHANGED THIS MONTH Your account was edited 14 times in the part of this month that Google's change history still covers, which leaves out the first days of September. This report does not tie any rise or fall to any particular edit, so read these numbers as how the account performed this month. From next month's report, this spot will also show where each recommendation below stands: done, waiting on you, or dropped.

LEADS

Leads - 126 this month, up from 98 last month

A lead is an ad visitor who took a contact step the account counts, such as a sign-up or form on your website or a call from an ad's call button. This month brought 126, against 98 last month and 88 in a usual month, and 5.2% of ad clicks became a lead, against 4.9% last month and 4.2% in a usual month.

WHAT THEY DID	LEADS	FROM WHICH ADS	WHAT IT MEANS
Signed up on your website	122	114 Astoria Home Search (search ads) 8 Queens Home Search (search ads)	A visitor created an account on the website, usually to save homes or get new-listing alerts. An early buyer signal rather than a request to talk.

ALSO HAPPENED, NOT COUNTED AS LEADS

- 47 taps on your Google Business Profile (the box with your photos and reviews on Google Search and Maps)
- 10 visits to your website from your Google listing
- 7 requests for directions to the office

- Website sign-ups (recorded as YLOPO Registration): 122, against 98 last month and 80 to 81 in a usual month. Google records these when a visitor submits a form or reaches a thank-you page on your website, and the latest came in on October 6.
- Calls from your ads' call button: 4, against 1 to 2 in a usual month. The latest was on September 25, with none in the 11 days through October 6; in June to August the longest quiet stretch was 17 days.
- Taps on your Google Business Profile listing are counted apart from leads: 47 other taps such as photos or reviews, 7 for directions and 10 through to your website.

What this means for you

More of your ad visitors signed up this month, and each lead cost less. Calls from the call button are a small count and have had quiet stretches before, so we are watching them rather than changing anything.

SEARCH ADS

Astoria Home Search - 1,907 clicks and 115 leads

Search ads appear when someone types what they want into Google. Your Astoria home-search ads drew 1,907 clicks for $1,007, up from 1,473 last month and above a usual month's 1,450, at $0.53 per click. They brought 115 leads, against 82 last month and 73 in a usual month, at $8.75 per lead, against $9.34 last month.

- Lead mix: 114 website sign-ups and 1 call from the ad's call button.
- Click rate: 9.5% of the times the ads showed led to a click, against 10.3% last month and 8.3% in a usual month.
- The ads showed on 18% of the searches they qualified for. They missed 68% because they ranked too low, down from 76% last month, and 14% because the day's budget ran out.
- Where clicks came from: Google could place only some of this campaign's clicks, and of the 279 it placed, 16 came from people in Astoria. The campaign is set to show in Astoria, Jackson Heights, Long Island City, Woodside and Greenpoint.

What this means for you

This campaign brought most of your leads this month at a lower cost per lead. The next thing to improve is how often its ads rank high enough to show; better ad wording and pages can help, though Google sets the rank.

SEARCH WORDS

What people searched - 87% of the clicks Google shows were from people shopping for a home

Google shows the search words behind 61% of search clicks (1,354 of 2,229), so these findings describe those searches only. None of them were searches for your team by name (0%), so these ads reached people looking for homes, not people already looking for you.

Google shows the search words for 61% of clicks (1,354 of 2,229); the groups above describe those clicks. Searches for the team by name: none this month. Those come from people who already know you, so they are always kept apart from the groups above.

- Shopping for a home: 1,179 clicks (87% of visible clicks), $726, 55 leads. Searches that led to a lead included 'new york houses for sale' (3), 'house for sale new york' (3) and 'house for sale in new york' (2).
- Closer to home, 'maspeth homes for sale', 'house sale in astoria ny' and 'house for sale in queens ny' each led to a lead.
- Home-market towns people typed in: Forest Hills 40 clicks, Astoria 34 clicks, Middle Village 19 clicks and Maspeth 18 clicks.
- 51% of visible clicks named New York without a specific area, and 15 of 68 visible leads came from searches naming a place outside your home market.

What this means for you

Your search budget is reaching people shopping for homes. The open question is how many of the broad New York searchers are people your team can help, and we ask you about that below.

BANNER ADS

Banner ads - your name reached about 60,700 people for $242

Banners keep your name in front of people in Queens as they browse websites and apps, so we judge them on being seen, not on leads. Your banners reached about 60,700 people (Google's estimate), against about 37,400 last month and about 25,700 in a usual month.

- Views: shown 111,932 times, about 1.8 times each, and 75% of the views Google could measure were on screen (84,123 of 111,854 measured views), against 73% last month and 74% in a usual month.
- Cost: $2.16 per 1,000 views, against $4.15 per 1,000 views last month and $4.86 per 1,000 views in a usual month, or about $4 per 1,000 people reached against about $7 last month.
- Clicks: 215, against 213 last month and 271 in a usual month, a click rate of 0.2%. 189 of 215 banner clicks came from phones, so we treat them as a light signal. No leads came from banners this month, and that is not how we judge them.
- Your static design was shown 107,325 times for 192 clicks, and the dynamic design 4,607 times for 23 clicks.

What this means for you

Think of the banners as signs along the streets people in Queens use every day. This month about the same spend put your name in front of more people, at a lower cost per view.

BANNER PLACEMENTS

Where banners ran - ESPN carried 57.5% of views

Your banner campaign is set to show to people in Astoria, East Elmhurst, Jackson Heights, Sunnyside and Woodside, and all 111,932 views were in Queens. 121 of the 367 sites on the campaign's chosen list showed your banners.

- ESPN, The New York Times, ZeroHedge, BBC and screenrant.com together carried 78% of views.
- Real estate sites on the list showed no banners: 0 views on 17 such sites. Design and architecture sites carried 147 views across 27 such sites.
- A few smaller sites cost more per view than last month: BBC at $11.63 per 1,000 views, against $0.72, and screenrant.com at $6.69, against $0.83.

What this means for you

The opportunity is the real estate and design sites on your list, which barely showed your banners. We will go through the list with you before removing any site.

SEARCH ADS

Queens Home Search - 11 leads, down from 16

Your Queens home-search ads drew 322 clicks for $488, up from 300 last month but below a usual month's 366. They brought 11 leads, 8 website sign-ups and 3 calls from the ad's call button, against 16 last month and 14 to 15 in a usual month, at $44 per lead, against $30 last month and $34 in a usual month.

- Click cost: $1.52 per click, down from $1.62 last month but above $1.33 in a usual month.
- The ads showed on 11% of the searches they qualified for, against 16% last month. They missed 66% because they ranked too low and 23% because the day's budget ran out; the daily budget is now $16.
- Where clicks came from: Google's location report places 269 of 322 clicks in Astoria (84%).

What this means for you

We are not recommending a bigger budget. Far more searches were missed for rank than for budget, so the first thing to work on is the ads themselves, with a test of new wording within the current budget.

WHAT WE RECOMMEND NEXT

Recommendations for the coming month

1

Test new wording on your Queens home-search ads

AD WORDING TEST

We recommend testing new ad wording on Queens Home Search, within the current budget, written for people searching for homes in the Queens towns the campaign covers. Its ads missed 66% of the searches they qualified for because they ranked too low, and Google sets ad rank partly from how useful the ad and its page look. We cannot promise a change in rank, and we will report what moves in the coming month.

2

Steer the banners toward the real estate and design sites on your list

WHERE BANNERS RUN

We recommend keeping ESPN and The New York Times, which carried most of your banner views at a low cost per view, and going through the rest of the 367 sites with you before removing any. The aim is to give the real estate and design sites on your list, which showed few or no banners, a better chance at the same budget.

3

Check the broad New York sign-ups with your team

QUICK CHECK

We recommend a quick check with your team on the website sign-ups from broad searches such as 'new york houses for sale'. If those are people your team can help, we leave Astoria Home Search as it is; if not, we would suggest narrowing it a few searches at a time, and only with your go-ahead.

4

Keep watching calls from your ads

KEEP WATCHING

We recommend no change yet. Calls from your ads' call button have been quiet since September 25, and a longer quiet stretch of 17 days happened in June. If none come in by mid-October, we recommend a quick test call to confirm they are still being recorded.

What we need from you this month

1. A yes to testing new wording on your Queens home-search ads.
2. A word on the September website sign-ups from broad New York searches: are they people your team can help?
3. A short call to go through the banner site list, so you can flag any site you do not want your name on.

PLAIN-ENGLISH GLOSSARY

Lead

An ad visitor who took a contact step the account counts: a website sign-up or form, a call from an ad's call button, or a tap on your phone number. Taps on your Google Business Profile listing are counted separately.

Reach

How many different people were shown your banners in the month, counting each person once. It is Google's estimate, and it cannot be added across months or campaigns.

Cost per 1,000 views

What it cost to show your banners 1,000 times.

Website sign-up

Recorded as YLOPO Registration: a visitor submitted a form or reached a thank-you page on your website. It shows interest; it does not confirm a conversation.

On screen

A banner view counts as on screen when a large enough part of the ad was visible for long enough, by Google's standard. A banner low on a page nobody scrolls to does not count.

A usual month

The average of the months from June to August. It keeps one unusually busy or quiet month from setting the bar.
